Noah Savino has been stuck in a wheelchair for months. He hates the way people treat him like heâ€™s helpless now. Heâ€™s sick of going to physical therapy, where he isnâ€™t making any progress. Heâ€™s tired of not having control over his own body. And he misses playing baseballâ€”but not as much as he misses his dad, who died in the car accident that paralyzed Noah.

Noah is scared heâ€™ll never feel like his old self again. He doesnâ€™t want people to think of him as different for the rest of his life. With the help of family and friends, heâ€™ll have to throw off the mask heâ€™s been hiding behind and face the fears that have kept him on the sidelines if he ever wants to move forward.
